DEATH BLOW TO THE FOOT NOTE

Methodist Conference Expected to Delete Controversial Clause Added to Church Discipline

Victoria, B.C., Aug. 22.—The first session of the general conference since Friday was held this afternoon. Considerable business was put through and the delegates appeared in good humor after the Sunday rest. The first item was the appointment of a special committee of thirty-five members to make recommendations regarding the liberation by the Minister of Justice of Black and King, after being imprisoned for the sale of indecent literature. They will also make recommendations regarding such sales in Canada. The general secretary announced to the conference that he had received word from Rev. Kelly of Montreal, to the effect that Western delegates would be granted the same stop-over privilege as the eastern delegates on the route home.

The committee on transfers recommended that in case of transfer of minister notice should be given the quarterly board concerned. A case was cited where the minister was transferred and the quarterly board of his church was not notified about it.

Permission was given authorizing the book and publishing committee to appoint an assistant book steward.

at the Central Book Room, when it should be considered necessary.

Temperance Committee Report

The temperance and social committee succeeded in passing several recommendations. One is the regular appointment by the annual conference of a temperance secretary in each district. Another is that the general secretary has, however, to call together the standing committee of temperance of any conference. They also asked permission to employ, when needed, special field secretaries, temperance evangelists, etc. Mr. Hart asked if they were to have a free hand at this or were they to work in connection with the district and circuit authorities. Mr. Rowell thought they had enough general of fields now.

Joseph Gilson stood up for more workers even if they did cost money. For every $125 given last year in Ontario they had closed a bar, Dr. Spicer said that they knew this department and could trust them, so the clause passed. A memorial had been presented for a special field secretary in the West. The committee did not recommend this and the general conference accepted their decision.

On the Opium Trade. A committee was recommended by this department consisting of the general superintendent and secretary to draft a memorial to the Imperial authorities relating to the opium trade in China.

They are to urge that China be not hindered in her effort to rid herself of this infamous trade and that talk about loss of revenue be not tolerated.

Four years ago, at the conference in Montreal, a number of men were appointed as a commission on the opium trade. They were to report proposals for changes at the next general conference. Dr. Rankin said their report. The last related to the deletion of clause thirty-five, which is popularly known as "the foot note."

They proposed to substitute a statement to the effect that, "Noting that framed these rules without any thought of legislation and had no idea that an outward observation of them would be considered satisfactory evidence of a Christian life." He had not enumerated a long list of specific evidence. A number of men asked for more time to consider this clause and wished that the old paragraph and the proposed new one be printed and passed around. The question was therefore laid over. It looks, however, as if "the foot note," which has been a bone of contention for the last twenty years, would get into the next session.

Some delegates want the substitute clause deleted as well. Several paragraphs, many with age regarding when and when to marry, what kind of clothes to wear, etc., were given a respectable funeral. The paragraph reading "young ministers consulting their superiors in office about marriage and, with their superiors, going too far if any more of this good advice, provided in the past, is given in the oblique, were removed.

Dr. Bland said that those who relate that to a young minister's conduct towards a woman were framed under the mistaken conception that women were "dangerous things."

Dr. Allison gave it as his private opinion that a young man, instead of sending offending people about getting married about very little sense, the paragraph was not removed.

Conference Boundaries

The committee on conference boundaries reported through Rev. A. R. Aid. The general conference confirmed the action of the committee in making the boundaries of the Western conference coincident with the provincial boundaries except in the case of Manitoba on the east that suit several changes in circuit and district boundaries. Brandon and Souris districts will thus be put under the Manitoba conference. They are now in Saskatchewan. When the provincial boundaries "foot note" came up and was explained, Dr. Griffin, eighty-three years of age, remarked, "This we can do if we like."

FLAG INCIDENT IN TORONTO

American Yacht Came Into Port Flying Stars and Stripes.

Toronto, Aug. 22.—A special committee of the Argonauts, meeting this morning suspended two of the club members for an insult offered to a visiting American. The White Wing from Buffalo came into port on Sunday bring the stars and stripes. The owner said they had lost the Union Jack at Port Huron. When the yachtmen were asked at lunch two boys belonging to the club swam out and lowered and tore up the flag.

MADE RECORD TIME ON TRIP FROM THE NORTH

J. H. Morris, of Edmonton, and Arthur E. MacFarlane, of New York, Members of Cornwall Press Party, Came 180 Miles from Fort Vermilion to Edmonton in Eleven Days.

J. H. Morris and Arthur E. MacFarlane, members of the Cornwall Press party, which is at present touring the north coast region, returned to the city yesterday. Mr. Morris was the representative of the Edmonton Board of Trade who accompanied the party, and Mr. MacFarlane is the well-known short story writer, a contributor for such magazines as The Saturday Evening Post. These two gentlemen left the party at Peace River Crossing. Mr. MacFarlane finding it necessary to be in New York by the 1st of September.

Mr. Morris and Mr. MacFarlane went with the party as far as Fort Vermilion, which is 180 miles down the Peace river from Peace River Crossing, and 700 miles north of Edmonton. The party arrived by steamer at Fort Vermilion on August 11th.

The next day they went down to the Chitina, a nine-foot flat, a few miles below Fort Vermilion, and which constituted the only break in the navigability of that mighty river between Hudson's Hope, which is well within the British Columbia border, and the Athabasca river.

Made Remarkable Time

Two days later they started their return trip by the Hudson's Bay Company's steamer "Peace River" for the crossing at this point on Sunday, August 14th, and from there came through to Edmonton by way of Lesser Slave Lake and Athabasca Landing. Despite the fact that the party had two men with them, Lake writing for the Northern Transportation Company's steamer to transport them across the lake and down the Little Slave river, they made the return trip from Fort Vermilion to Edmonton in the remarkable time of eleven days. This time constitutes almost a record. It has been considered only once before.

On the trip back the Peace River Vermilion the party saw seventeen bears, Emmerson Hough, of Chicago, the sportsman, bagged one of them. On the return trip two more bears were shot from the steamer. The first was a big male weighing 225 pounds, and the other a brown weighing 220 pounds. Both were shot by one of the men on the way down and back.

At Peace River Crossing Mr. Hough and J. H. Morris, of Edmonton, a prominent American naturalist, left the main party to go on a moose hunt. The remainder of the party with the exception of Mr. Morris and Mr. MacFarlane went on to the Crossing to Grande Prairie.

Both Mr. Morris and Mr. MacFarlane express themselves as delighted with the country. They viewed it from two entirely different viewpoints. Mr. Morris was interested in it as a great farming country tributary to Edmonton, while Mr. MacFarlane was looking for material for short fiction stories. Mr. Morris stated to the Bulletin last night that in his opinion there can be no question as to the wonderful agricultural resources of the whole of the Peace River country. He said the party, Prof. Pettit, of the agricultural college at Urbana, Ill., and Prof. Beck, of the agricultural college of Minnesota, have been closely examining the land along the entire route of the journey. They have arguments with them by which they show the great quality of the soil and the depth of the subsoil.

"It will be the information which these two gentlemen will disseminate," said Mr. Morris, "which will be of great benefit to the north country and to Edmonton."

The entire party expects to arrive back in Edmonton on August 25th, according to a letter received by the Bulletin from Mr. Vermilion. Mr. Vermilion further states that it will have been the fastest trip covering the same distance ever taken in the country.

ALBERTA HAS 321,602

Estimate of Population of Province at the Present Time.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—The population of Canada on March 21 last, according to statistics prepared by the census branch of the Department of Agriculture, was 1,453,731, an increase in the year of 30,837. These calculations apportion the population as follows:

Maritime Pro.	319,150
Quebec	1,060,000
Manitoba	416,434
Ontario	496,111
British Columbia	227,723
Saskatchewan	277,050
Unorganized	59,050

Not organized.

To the above has to be added immigration of 1,423 last year apportioned.

If the estimates of the census branch are even approximately correct, it means that the census to be taken on June 1 next will show a population for the Dominion of considerably over eight millions.

R.N.M.P. STILL A FACTOR

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—Colonel P. H. P. has returned from a tour of inspection as far west as the Pacific coast. He had contemplated going to the Yukon where a slight reduction in the staff is proposed. This part of the trip was abandoned owing to the wreck of the steamer Princess Mary.

Colonel White reports that the force is still doing good work in the West—provinces, and the agreement under which the force assists in the administration of justice in Saskatchewan and Alberta will shortly be extended for a five-year term. This means that the question of withdrawing the force from those provinces will not be considered for several years. The time will come, he says, when the real costs will be confined to the organized territory.

AROUND THE CITY

LOCAL

Harry B. Clark, the ten months' old son of C. W. Clark, who resides at 284 Fourth street, died yesterday afternoon. The funeral took place today.

The contract for the new Catholic College in Strathcona was signed today with Messrs. H. & S. Ritchie. The architects of the structure, which will be proceeded with at once, are Barnes & Kilbuck.

The new hall built by the Norwood Lodge No. 41, Independent Order of Oddfellows, will be officially opened on Monday evening next, when the military and first degree will be conferred. All Oddfellows in the city are invited to be present. The second degree tent will be in attendance.

After an illness of about a month's duration, Mrs. William Elliot died at her home, five miles east of Leduc, at five o'clock last Monday morning. She leaves a husband and a child four years of age. The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the Leduc cemetery.

H. S. Heiler and J. J. Suter, under the firm name of Heiler & Suter, have purchased the office building and the real estate and coal business of S. K. Walker at 274 Jasper avenue east. Messrs. Heiler & Suter have built several high-class modern houses at the west end this summer and intend to erect similar houses in that section of the city next season. They will also conduct a general business in city real estate, farm lands, loans and insurance, and will deal in South African veteran and half-breed scrip. They have the agency for the Keith & Pullen coal mine.

GUARD OF HONOR POSTPONED.
The guard of honor from the Edmonton Fusiliers, which was to have attended the House of the Lieutenant Governor at the opening of the exhibition this afternoon, has been postponed until the same hour on Wednesday. Every available man is requested to be in attendance at the ceremony at 12:15. Employers of labor will greatly assist by permitting their men to have the half day for this purpose. The army will be seen from nine o'clock onwards morning.

FARMERS WELL PROVIDED.
James Henderson, of Pasquo, Prairie, stated at the B. W. M. P. luncheon this morning that somebody had poisoned the water in his well.

The well, which is an open one, is pumped by a windmill and bucket, and some weeks ago Henderson was putting up a bucket of water discovered that it was of a blue color.

The well, which is only a shallow one, was then searched and a bottle containing a blue liquid was found in the bottom.

Although there is no clue as to who placed the bottle in the well Henderson suspects a neighbor with whom he recently had a quarrel.

HARVESTERS ARRIVE.
The first party of harvesters arrived at the immigration hall yesterday. They are considerably disappointed with the wages which are being offered in this district and state that while in the Battledore district they were able to get two and a half dollars a day, but up here in Edmonton the first wages offered are forty dollars a month, and thirty-five dollars a month is the general rate.

forecasting news to some of the readers of the Bulletin to learn that there is an industry existing to which from is being turned into copper.

A few years ago I was a resident of Butte, Montana, which is a great copper-mining city. I may have here that the mine are on the face of a pretty high mountain with a steep sloping side. The mine generally are below and some of them are very deep, so deep that miners are paid five cents per day extra to induce the men to work in them, which many refuse to do on account of the extra high temperature.

A great deal of water is pumped out of the mines and runs down the face of the mountain in little streams. This water is a mixture of sulphuric acid and vegetable life.

Some person accidentally discovered that iron placed in this water would be gradually dissolved and turned into copper. Some after the industry started. Tanks built of lumber in size about 8 x 12, and two feet deep, were built, one above the other on the slope, and a stream from a mine turned into them and there tanks are kept full of scrap iron, tin cans, etc., everything from steel rail to scrap wire being utilized. The iron dissolves into a dark muddy-looking solution, which is often as viscous as molasses and is often as sticky as molasses and is often as sticky as molasses and is often as sticky as molasses.

It appears to be a profitable industry, as more recently, a good deal of money has been invested in it. Shallow tanks were built, one above another to a height of 10 or 12 feet by electric power.
